Commencement around the Corner!

The 2002 Commencement ceremony will be held this year at the Clatsop County Fairgrounds at 7:00 p.m., Friday, June 14. Many hours are devoted to this effort by numerous staff members in order to make the event memorable for all. The guest speaker this year will be State Representative, Betsy Johnson. Master of Ceremonies will be Patricia Morrissey, and Julie Brown will be the faculty greeter. Also participating will be Commencement Marshals Anna Bublitz and Nicole Mack. The Ceremony will be followed by the traditional cookies and coffee reception at the fairgrounds. Don't forget! Rehearsal is at 5:30 on June 13th at the fairgrounds. This is when you will receive your cap and gown so don't miss it! If you do have an emergency and cannot attend, please contact Lois Tivey in Student Services.

Butterflies in my StomachBy Tony Di Donato

The feeling I get, when I look in your eyes
 Is so much stronger than you'll ever realize You're lips slightly part, and you light up the room
 With just one of your smiles, I shiver and swoon
 There's that feeling I've come to know well
 The very same thing that broke open my shell
 The butterflies in my stomach are fluttering fast
 But they remove all doubt from my shadowy past
 They fly around inside me like bees in a hive
 And make me feel happy, that I am alive
 To know you is to love you, or so they say
 But I've never met anyone that made me feel this way
 When you tell me you love me,
 I'll say that I know
 Because the butterflies already told me, a long time ago

Butterflies
By Savannah Reeves

Your Touch
 I have memorized
 Your Eyes
 Keep me hypnotized
 Your Voice
 Plagues me mesmerized
 Your Kiss
 My heart intensified
 Our Souls
 Entwined...Immortalized

COMMUNITY ANNOUNCEMENTS

HEY YOU GRADUATES!

There are at least 12 graduates that have not yet ordered their CAP AND GOWN for graduation! You may still be able to get a "late order" in if you go to Student Services. Also, if you have not yet had a chance to get your graduation announcements, you may stop by ASBG to find out how!

Parking 101 is NOT a transfer course!

On page 94 in your student handbook you will find the advantages as well as the disadvantages of not having your FREE CCC parking sticker! If you have not already done so, you can pick yours up at the Switchboard, Patriot Hall, 2nd floor.
(or ASBG)

Oregon State University (OSU) has invited Clatsop Community College instructor Brian Harrison to direct its Archaeological Field School this summer in Dyke, Alaska, near Skagway. The area is a National Park Service Historic District, and all expenses for the project are funded by the National Park Service. A faculty member at Clatsop for 24 years, Harrison teaches archaeology, sociology, geography and fencing. He has been active in archaeological field work for 27 years, including a number of historic-era sites from British Columbia to Peru.

Field school students will enroll through OSU for either 10 undergraduate or 6 graduate credits in field archaeology, and Harrison will be their instructor. Several Clatsop students plan to apply for the program.

Harrison and the students will take a vanload of equipment on a car ferry through the Inland Passage, then live and work in the field for six weeks, living in tents and doing surveying, testing and excavation. Congratulations Brian!!!

Admissions Office Hours have been changed.

Due to budget cuts, the Admissions Office will be closed from 8-10 a.m. in order to process inquiries and applications. We apologize for this inconvenience, and thank you for your understanding.

Looking for a great summer school class?

Try out "Children's Literature, English 221" 3 credits MW 10-12, with Dr. Julie Brown! "I have heard great things about this class from everyone I know that's taken it!" ~ Savannah Reeves, CCC Student

In English 221, Students will read and study a variety of texts written for children, including poetry, nursery rhymes, folk tales, fairy tales, and classics such as The Secret Garden, Dragonwings, and Harry Potter! Students will have the chance to try writing their own fairy tale, and will also do some library research on a topic of their own choice. Class is ideal for those planning to work with children, such as ECE or education majors, or for anyone who would enjoy re-reading and studying their favorite books from childhood. No prerequisites.

For more information, see Dr. Julie Brown
